

Significant Structures Fifty Years Old or More, Guilford, Connecticut

The following abbreviations are used in this chart of “Significant Structures Fifty Years Old or More, Guilford Connecticut”:

GPA1: In 1981-1982, the Guilford Preservation Alliance (GPA) completed an inventory on Connecticut Historical Commission survey sheets of 450 buildings built before World War II of architectural and historical importance in Guilford, Connecticut, arranged by street address with photocopied photos of the buildings on each sheet. A public copy of this inventory is housed in the Edith B. Nettleton Historical Room of the Guilford Free Library.

GPA2: Grant money for time and staff to do the 1981-1982 survey necessitated limiting the properties chosen to 450. A photo survey of additional 150 properties is available in the Edith B. Nettleton Historical Room of the Guilford Free Library (subtitled “supplement: photographs of buildings not researched”).

NRHP: Property is on the National Register of Historic Places.

SBM: The abbreviation “SBM” refers to Sarah Brown McCulloch, either from the notes for her book Guilford: a Walking Guide; the Green & Neighboring Streets, rev. in 1998, or from the book itself. These resources can be found in the Edith B. Nettleton Historical Room of the Guilford Free Library.

TGP: Indicates that the property is included and described in the inventory of pre-1911 buildings researched and published in Joel E. Helander’s book A Treasury of Guilford Places (c2008). Helander’s “building survey” in chapter 20 has been incorporated in its entirety into this list, with permission. Helander’s notes for many Guilford properties can be found in the Edith B. Nettleton Historical Room of the Guilford Free Library—the chart indicates “JEH” for such material not in TGP.

TGP2: Indicates that the property was added (or new information given) in Joel E. Helander’s Revised Historic Building Inventory Guilford, Connecticut : Revising Chapter 20, A Treasury of Guilford Places, published in 2009.

Note: Whenever discrepancies arose as to date or original owner/s, Joel Helander was used as a source, his material being the most authoritative and up-to-date. Material in “notes” column is from TGP unless otherwise indicated.
